

To Institute Mail Route Across Pike

Residents of Streets Bordering on Borough to Get Delivery.

IN OPERATION TUESDAY

A new postal route for Narberth to go into effect Tuesday, July 16, was authorized this week by the Post Office Department at Washington. The new route will bring mail delivery for the first time to streets across Montgomery Pike. Heretofore the residents of these streets have gotten their mail at boxes in the Narberth Post Office.

New streets included in the route are Wynnewood Manor Road, Miller Lane, Hansell Road, Mill Road, Gilpin Road, Wellington Road, Bryn Mawr Avenue and Old Gulph Road.

This section across the pike is often designated as Wynnewood, but the residents have always gotten their mail at the Narberth Post Office, shop at Narberth stores and most of them have Narberth telephone numbers. It is also in the protected zone of the Narberth Fire Company so that it is a part of the borough to all intents and purposes though politically it is in Lower Merion Township.

Along with the addition of a new route, the other routes in the borough will be readjusted, making them on the average a bit shorter.

Raymond S. Maxwell will be the carrier on the new route, while David Casey will take up Maxwell's previous work with parcel post.

Newtown Square Succeeds Ardmore in M. L. League

The opening games of the second half of the Main Line League this Saturday find a new team, Newtown Square, in the league. It takes the place of Ardmore, which was no doubt discouraged by an unenviable record of nine straight defeats.

The advent of this club reduces the number of traveling clubs to one, Brookline, since Newtown Square has a home field and Berwyn has arranged to play its games, with the exception of the Narberth contests, at Villanova. It was hoped that a six-team league could be organized for the second half of the league competition, but the necessary additional teams were not forthcoming.

Games are scheduled every Saturday till September 2. The playoff, if necessary, for the year's title will follow the close of the regular season.

Valuable Horses Lost in Ashton Stables Fire

Fire swept the main stables of Dr. Thomas G. Ashton, of Wynnewood, on Gradyville Road near West Chester Pike, Willisville, on Saturday and a dozen horses, valued at more than $100,000, were burned to death.

Among these were six jumpers imported from England less than two months ago. Several of the others were breeding horses, including some of the finest in this section of the country.

Volunteer firemen were summoned from Ardmore, Paoli, Media and Malvern to help the West Chester and Newtown Square companies.

Property damage is estimated at $20,000.

Estates Distributed

Anna Travis, late of Lower Merion, gives an estate valued at $500 to her sister, Mrs. Margaret Dempsey, of Philadelphia, in her will admitted to probate at Norristown. The Bryn Mawr Trust Company is named executor of the will, which was executed May 8, 1929.

Letters of administration have been granted in the following estates:

Alexander Cameron, late of Lower Merion, to Bryn Mawr Trust Company, in an estate valued at $1000.

Narberth Gains First Half Title, Beating Berwyn Twice on Fourth

Pound Four Pitchers for Thirty-nine Hits, Piling Up 17-5 and 15-6 Scores as Masters and Graham
Hold Visitors in Check.

By John Uberti.

A throng of 1800 gathered at the Narberth Ball Park on July 4th to see the hard-hitting sons of the Narberth Club take preliminary steps in defending their Championship laurels from the dangerous Berwyn nine by snaring a pair of impressive victories fore and aft to cop the first half championship of the Main Line League. This double win established a new winning streak of eight straight out of the last nine league games.

Records fell in abundance in this exciting dual clash in which the local nine achieved their greatest triumph since entering the Main Line League, winning from a team whom they could only repulse in 1928 with an imported lineup. The most noticeable of these to fall was the attendance record of approximately 1800 loyal supporters, who crowded the spacious field and formed a human border of bellowing baseball-mad fans about the diamond.

The Davismen shattered another in high scoring against their greatest nemesis when they felled the dangerous nine of the West by lopsided scores of 17-5 in the morning fray and 15-6 in the deciding runaway which gave them undisputed sway as monarchs of Main Line baseball. Marks continued to drop when Narberth's collegians, Harris, of Lehigh, and Gillilan, of Penn, and the nimble first baseman, Martin, acclaimed the most valuable player for the first-half season, circled the bases from circuit blows to the highway to aid materially in establishing the high scoring marks. Bob Harris' smash in the seventh inning of the second game, with Humphreys on, was the most prodigious swat of the trio as it eluded the guard out in center and rolled far across the road.

The bat pile picked up such a continuous resonant pace in both contests that the Davismen established another high mark with 39 clean hits for the two games, last but not least, in importance in this record-smashing jubilee.

Relief pitchers, pinch-hitters and other sources of reinforcements failed to repel the furious onslaught of the local champions, when two of Berwyn's most heralded boxmen were swept off the peak under a spurge of runs. Danny Redmond, manager of the Berwyn team, the third man to scale the mound, proved a little more successful, though his hurling efforts could not counteract the 13-run lead piled up by Narberth.

Walter Masters played his most brilliant game of the season in the opener when he helped win his own game by gathering four safeties, the highest for the club, while Howard Graham rang up his seventh win of the season for an enviable average of

Apartment Size Bank Notes Find New Owners Here—Are Just as Easy to Spend

The new, reduced-size currency of the United States went into circulation Wednesday. Main Line banks had it by noon, and were kept busy giving it out for checks and the old currency.

William S. Howard and Guy Croyle were the first recipients of the new money in the Borough at the Narberth National Bank and the Merion Title and Trust Company, respectively.

Bank officials have taken occasion to stress the fact that July 10 did not mark the date for redemption of all outstanding old money, but merely the injection of a relatively small amount—measured in millions of dollars, of course—of the new currency. The old size currency still remains legal tender and obligations of the Government and does not have to be turned in, it was pointed out. The initial issue of the new bills is confined to notes in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10 and $20.

The "curiosity demand" for the new currency, one-third smaller than the old, is expected to keep up for several weeks. With about 912,000,000 pieces already printed, the Treasury is prepared to meet that demand.

This change in currency, which is to be completed in about a year, is the first undertaken by the Government since 1861, and is expected to reduce the cost of materials, printing, storage and distribution about $1,500,000 a year.

In museums may be seen specimens of the so-called "shin plasters" or fractional currency of Civil War times. They were issued by municipalities and by business houses as a means of facilitating trade, because of the scarcity of metal money.

The monetary system of the country has been so stabilized that it is difficult now to realize how much trouble used to be caused by paper money in earlier times. During the thirties and forties of the nineteenth century, when "wild-cat" banks flourished, each emitted a mass of bank notes. As means of intercourse were limited, persons at a distance rarely knew whether such notes were backed by real value. Hence recourse was had to note brokers, involving substantial discounts in the value of the money. Lists were printed stating the market value of the different bank issues, and before accepting a note issued by a distant bank the merchant would look it up in his little book.

There were times when the rule of exchange was "cord for cord"—that is a cord of wood for a cord of bank notes.

The worst depreciation in the country's currency occurred at the time of the American Revolution. In 1777, Captain Allen McLane paid $600 in Continental currency for a pair of boots and $100 each for handkerchiefs. In 1779 butter cost $12 a pound in Philadelphia.

On Penn Landing Board

Three of the five men named by Governor Fisher as the William Penn Landing Commission are Main Line residents. Among those who will arrange plans for a celebration in 1932 of the 250th anniversary of the landing of William Penn on the Delaware River in 1682 are Alba B. Johnson, Rosemont, president of the State Chamber of Commerce; Hon. William I. Schaeffer, Haverford, Justice of the State Supreme Court, and Owen Wister, Bryn Mawr, author and historian.

Leave for Batteries

Three men from this section left this week for Pine Camp, N. Y., where they will have nine days' work with field artillery batteries of the Princeton and Cornell University R. O. T. C. units. They are George E. Snyder, Bala; William C. Roberts, Wayne, and Frederick G. Matheson, Bryn Mawr.

Horsewoman Injured

Thrown from her horse in Bryn Mawr Sunday, Miss Kathleen Sherman, of 1908 North Sixty-third Street, suffered a fracture of the shoulder. She was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Playgrounds Scene of Many Activities

Athletics, Games, Handicrafts and Story-Telling Among the Features.

HAVE A DAILY 'SPRINKLE'

The playgrounds, which opened for the summer last Friday, are now in full swing. The activities in progress every morning and afternoon at the school and community playgrounds include playground ball, quoits, lawn croquet, golf, tennis, volley ball, archery (school playground in the morning), jackstones, checkers, dominoes, backgammon. Nor are the activities limited in scope to athletics and games. Arts and crafts to be cultivated will include soap carving, basket weaving, knitting, making stuffed dolls and animals, yarn and raphia work. Another feature is the story-telling hour in the afternoons.

A playground baseball league will be formed this afternoon (Friday) with four teams. All boys from 11 to 15 are eligible. A regular schedule will be played with the first game today.

Another feature of the playground program, which should appeal to many these days, is the afternoon "sprinkle" at 4:15. All children attending in the afternoon should have their bathing suits for this event.

Slides and swings are on the way and will be installed and ready for use shortly. Bulletin boards on the grounds will inform participants of the beginning of tournaments, clubs, etc. Harmonica and ukulele clubs will be formed if enough talent appears.

Allan B. Wetherald, the new director of physical education and recreation at the borough school, has general supervision over both playgrounds. He has as assistants Miss Church and Miss Kulp at the school playground and Miss Thompson at the Community Playground. Miss Church has charge of the morning program at the school ground during July and Miss Kulp will look after the afternoon session until August, when she will assume full charge of the school playground.

Mothers as well as children are invited to come out and look things over.

This will be the last chance to be registered for the primary election of September 18. Assessor for district No. 1, Elm Hall, will be Louise V. Cockrill; for district No. 2, Cook Brothers' store, Ella Murray, and for district No. 3 (south side), Scout House, Mary M. Livingston.

Hilldale Again Conquers Narberth

Great Crowd Sees Main Line
Champs Wage Stubborn Contest.

THE SCORE WAS 5 TO 2

By John Uberti.
For the third consecutive time Narberth failed to chase the "black" jinx when they dropped another to Ed Bolen's Darby Daisies, Hilldale, on Monday evening by the score of 5-2. Scores for the other two defeats last year were 13-8 for the first game and 13-6 for the second contest.

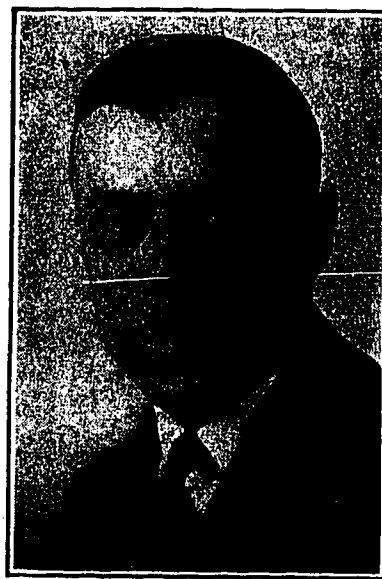

A crowd of approximately 1100 fans saw Bill Durbin and Howard Graham share high honors in this exciting contest, holding the invaders to 12 hits and curbing them in fine fashion when on three occasions they jammed the pathways. However, in the sixth when they again loaded the bases, one man counted as the fourth man up walked, forcing a pal home, and another crossed off a tidy bingle. Narberth only filled the lanes once. Durbin was charged with the defeat.

Narberth Resident Describes 48-Hour Trip to Coast Via New Air-Rail Service

Air-Railer

Walton M. Wentz, of Wayne Avenue, Narberth, editor of the Pennsylvania News, who was one of the pioneers to make the air-rail trip to the coast. He describes the experience in an accompanying article.

How it feels to travel from coast to coast in forty-eight hours via the new Rail-Air service of the Pennsylvania Railroad is told in the following interview with Walton M. Wentz, of 205 Wayne Avenue, Narberth. Mr. Wentz is editor of the Pennsylvania News, the official organ of the P. R. R., and also serves as treasurer of the borough of Narberth.

In commenting on his trip Mr. Wentz said: "There is an air of substantiality about the whole air-rail service that completely eliminates all thought of fear—at least it was so with our party."

Other members of Mr. Wentz's party included Columbus city officials, the president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, newspapermen from New York and Los Angeles, photographers and W. Lawrence Saunders, president of the Philadelphia Aero Club.

Commenting on the trip, he said: "Leaving Narberth after supper, on the 7:29 P. M. train on Thursday and arriving in Los Angeles in time for supper Saturday evening, gives some idea of how this combination of rail and air services has given time and distance a body blow."

"Flying by day and sleeping on the train by night was most comfortable and pleasant. It so happened that the weather all the way was fine. Immediately on leaving Columbus we ran into a fairly strong head wind, but it didn't interfere with the large plane at all."

"This was my first experience in air travel. Quite naturally I was curious to see the wheels of the plane leave the ground as we taxied along the concrete runway at Columbus, Ohio. Then the small 'bank' as we circled the airport and we were off toward Indianapolis before anyone realized what was taking place."

"We were really making history, for this was an advance trip in a new era of transcontinental transportation to be inaugurated a few days later!"

"I say 'we' for there were ten passengers in the huge tri-motored Ford plane. Two pilots and a courier completed the party. Each of us had been assigned a seat and each with his baggage was weighed before the start. We—baggage and human cargo—weighed just one ton, whereas the plane has a capacity of 6000 pounds."

"The first day we flew over lovely farming country. We were about 1500 feet above the land and the cities, farm buildings, public highways, automobiles, railroad trails and even the cattle were plainly visible. Towns not nearly the size of Narberth had their names painted on a roof somewhere within the limits, which added materially to our pleasure and incidentally brought forth much favorable comment."

"We stopped at the air fields at Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Kan., and Waynoka, Oklahoma, the first day. At each point large permanent runways have been built and hangars are either completed or under construction. Beautiful stations have been completed, where refreshments can be had while the plane is being refueled."

"At Waynoka a Santa Fe Railroad 'sleeper' was waiting on the side track. Space assignments had been made in advance and after dinner there was a rest of several hours before the night train picked us up for the run to Clovis, New Mexico."

"For some reason or other the train was forty minutes late arriving the next morning. Adding time for breakfast at Clovis, we started our second day's air trip about one hour behind schedule."

"We had on the previous day averaged about 100 miles an hour. Being one hour late didn't seem to bother the pilots of the 'City of Los Angeles,' which was the name of our second day's plane. They merely 'stepped it up a bit' and that hour's lateness quickly disappeared. We were on time at the second stop!"

"Two planes were used for the entire trip. Pilots were changed once a day. Two couriers, one each day, were assigned to the planes."

Summer in Earnest

Shirtsleeves became common and the resorts did a thriving business during the week-end as high humidity combined with temperatures that soared above 90 brought the realization that July is in its normal stride. During the last week, according to Charles Decker, Main Line weather observer, mercury reading have been from three to nine degrees above normal, with clear skies predominating.

Fourth Celebration a Great Success

The Fireworks Display at Playground Wins General Approval.

COLLECTION GENEROUS

By the Spectator.

The crowd was the most numerous ever assembled in Narberth. Borough residents were out en masse. Visitors came from all the surrounding countryside. It was an animated scene, a gala fete champetre. The picture harkened to Derby Day. Long before the time the people gathered. They ambled around and made themselves happy. It is good to have a pretty place like this. Dobbie's band played on, now here, now there. Boys and girls sported on the green. Older ones whispered things to each other. What they said was not heard, but we can be sure it was nothing new. There is only one sweetest and oldest story.

Meanwhile, the sun was going down and soft winds came from the West. Night arrived without a breath. The heavens were soon in high glow. Amends were being made for the havoc wrought the previous year. The folks got ready for the flare.

Harry Simpson sauntered in and out among the multitude, giving a double-decker salute to all who crossed his path. He was a happy Legionnaire. Nobody had prayed more zealously for fair weather. He was prepared to live permanently in Jersey if it had rained. An excellent citizen is thus retained for Narberth.

Then came the pyrotechnics. They were glorious. Each one outdid the other in unique display. The skies were brilliant with their vivid hues. Spectacles galore we never saw before. The waterfall was gorgeous. So was everything. It was an impressive evening. The approval was unanimous. The American Legion fellows are all okeh and no doubt about it.

And so are the ladies and gentlemen who made the celebration possible. For the first time the collection exceeded the cost. There shall be a tidy balance to carry over for next year. What other town can boast of that? What other place garners its cash without panhandling or door-bell ringing? Our wherewithal came in response to printed requests, nothing else, except the 8 per cent. gathered on the field. That fact adds to the satisfaction of it all. That achievement enhances the glory of the occasion.

Room For Improvement

One of the primary needs of any fire-fighting organization is a good central alarm system. That the one now employed in Lower Merion Township and Narberth might be improved may seem a heretical statement, but it is borne out by the facts.

In the present system when fire alarms are reported by telephone the operator notifies the fire company of the same phone exchange as that from which the call came. Thus, for instance, a fire in Cynwyd is reported to the operator and she calls the Cynwyd company of the Lower Merion Township Fire Department. So far so good. Complications ensue, however, when we come to a section which is served by several telephone exchanges. Merion is one with Merion, Cynwyd and Philadelphia phone exchanges. Wynnewood, back of Montgomery Pike, is another where there are Narberth, Ardmore and Cynwyd phone numbers.

A case illustrating the confusion which is bound to arise from this system took place not long ago. A fire was reported from a home at 501 South Narberth Avenue, Merion. The number of the party reporting it being a Cynwyd number, the operator called the Cynwyd and West Manayunk companies. These two reported to the scene, but the Narberth company, which was located four blocks from the scene of the fire, was not called. This is a concrete example of the inefficiency of the present system.

If reports of fires are made through the police telephone boxes located throughout the borough and township and marked by red lights, the call comes to the switchboard at Ardmore police headquarters and the operator on duty there notifies the fire company nearest the scene of the blaze. That system is fine—when it is used, but the trouble is that most fires are reported from private telephones over the Bell System.

The only way to avoid the trouble, confusion and loss of efficiency that is bound to result from the present system is to scrap it and have all fire calls relayed by phone operators to the Ardmore police headquarters and the man on duty there notify the proper company.

It is hoped that the creating of a Lower Merion Township Fire Department, with which the Narberth company will co-operate, which is the first step in the improvement of fire-fighting conditions in the borough and township, will be followed by a second move in increasing the efficiency of the central alarm system.

Letter to Editor

More on Prohibition?

It is not often we find ourselves in accord with a Prohibitionist, but Dr. Chalfant is dead right when he calls the editor to account for permitting discussion of this controversial subject under a pen-name. Several weeks ago we registered a similar protest, and were told pretty much what Dr. Chalfant was told, but that hardly fills the bill, and whilst we are not sure that the thing belongs at all in a neighborhood paper we are willing to take a crack at it if the folks have no objection.

Our attitude shall be that of a total abstainer (even yet) who has tried for twenty years to advance the cause of temperance as best he could and who regards the present effort for legislative morality as anti-Christian, anti-American and as a fearful blight on a beloved nation.

What do your readers say?
J. J. CABREY.

MacCALLA—WHITNEY

A marriage of interest here was that of Miss E. Gertrude Whitney, daughter of Mrs. Charles Smith Whitney, of 117 St. Paul's Road, Ardmore, who became the bride of Mr. Powell S. MacCalla, of Philadelphia, at noon Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edmund Grindal Rawson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Ardmore, in the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, and wore a rose beige ensemble with hat to match. Her shoulder corsage was of orchids and sweet peas. Miss Georgina Modderman, who was maid of honor, wore a Nile green georgette dress, with a picture hat of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and delphinium.

Mr. William Chalfant, of Philadelphia, was best man.

Following the reception at Green Hill Farms, Mr. and Mrs. MacCalla left for a wedding trip by motor through Canada. After September first they will be at home in Wynnewood.

The Fireside

Paul Leo Cabrey came with the wind which blew at 10 o'clock on Tuesday night of this week, and thus the household of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cabrey, of Windsor and Narberth Avenues, is of even balance, with three boys and three girls. Mother and child are doing exceedingly well.

After two weeks' sojourn at Camp Caledon, on Lake Erie, Miss Betty Seaboldt has returned to her home on Narberth Avenue.

Mrs. Christian Gross and her son, Warren, of 322 Dudley Avenue, have left for a fortnight's visit with their daughter, whose husband, the Rev. Leroy S. ## Two Important Changes

Made at B. M. Hospital

A. Atwater Kent, for several years a trustee of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, resigned from that body because of increasing business demands at the directors' meeting held this week. At the same time Charlton Yarnall, vice president of the board and chairman of the Executive Committee for the past twelve years, asked to be relieved of his two official positions with the assurance that he would remain as a director.

The opening of the hospital on Wednesday was attended by many friends and neighbors. All of the staff were at their posts to explain the various improvements. No guides were used and the visitors were encouraged to wander through the spacious building to investigate without haste or annoyance. The Women's Board was on duty to explain any of the functions of the new building and equipment.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

More Odds and Ends.

The subjective and opinionated article on prohibition and law enforcement brought some results to the editorial offices. The article was intended to be impartial though personal; these are some of the responses:

(1) A charming lady called the editor's office, congratulated him on the series and pointed out that the present generation never realizes the conditions of a quarter to a half century ago. She thought it was well to remind folks and approved the note of law observance expressed.

(2) A public-spirited citizen, openly wet in his sentiments, confronted the owner of the paper with a demand to know if the Prohibitionists were running the sheet. "This series is," he said, "the propaganda of a narrow and bigoted man who sees only one side of the question, an old fossil who would deprive Americans of their individual rights."

(3) A clergyman talking to one of the advertising men said: "The whole series is without feeling or depth of conviction. It appears to be the work of some precocious youngster who has no idea of the horrors that existed before the enactment of the Volstead law. I am sorry to see your paper sponsoring wet propaganda."

(4) A delightful woman, whose name you all know, and who must remain anonymous, sent in the following letter:

Dear Sir:
It gave me great pleasure to read your excellent articles on Prohibition and thank you for publishing such fair and instructive ones. You stated the evils of the drink traffic in its true light and in the sixth article you gave valuable suggestions where wine and beer are desired.

The law could be enforced without all this lawlessness which is lowering our country's standing.

Should you publish these articles in pamphlet form, I should like to purchase some copies.

By the attitudes shown above, you see how hard it is to please everyone. I wish more of you would take up the subject and air your views here.

An Answer to Faber.

My dear sir, I almost concur with you. Bridge is my idea of the very essence of nothingness and the expression of mental vacuousness, and you know how "Nature abhors a vacuum." Wouldn't you much prefer to be a gambler than an idiot? I should, for all of us must gamble with life; so much depends on chance; we gamble at love when we are young, then we gamble with business; all of our movements about the world's surface are fraught with uncertainty and chance of disaster. So much depends on the slight turn of fate, unless it is predestined by the Almighty, which I cannot quite believe.

I can not find it in my heart to condemn the man who wins a little on a horse or on the market, nor can I produce quick and adequate tears for him who loses.

Perhaps bridge is just as well, Faber, if it does keep the mentally deficient from finding more pernicious mischief; it does keep their fingers busy and a certain portion of their mental processes active, but I agree that it is a greatly overrated pastime, and, for me, an insufferable bore.

Know It All.

Aunt Cy and I were gossiping about two men, friends of very similar tastes. "A" knows everything; no one can give him any tips or information. If they could he would resent it. "B" pretends to be ignorant, asks for advice and information, weighs it and uses it. He is a much bigger, finer character and will do much more for the world. I often find myself sliding into "A's" category, and it is hard to recognize that the more we learn the more unexplored avenues of knowledge present themselves, so that no one of us can ever explore all of them.

Hedgerow Will Give

Shaw to Main Liners

The double event of a Shaw comedy and the Hedgerow Theatre Company in that comedy is what Main Liners have to look forward to with the announcement of the second Hedgerow production at the Anthony Wayne Theatre. Shaw's "Misalliance" is the offering for the evening of July 17.

This comedy, so seldom done in America, is uproariously funny and offers an opportunity for a large number of the company to participate. It has been called by Shaw "A Debate in Three Parts." The play is a derogatory comment on the life of middle and upper class England. The Polish woman acrobat, with family traditions, whose airplane crashes into the home of John Tarleton, spreads a new atmosphere of vitality over the staid English home. Dudley Vaughan, who played the part of the gin-soaked mother in "Poker Face" at the Anthony Wayne, is seen in "Misalliance" as Lena Szczpanowska, the Polish juggler woman. Allyn Joslyn, who played Poke in "Poker Face" is again seen in "Misalliance" in the comic rôle of the gunman clerk. John Tarleton is played by Harry Bellaver, who will be remembered as Mike in "Poker Face." Ted Newton, the photographer of "Poker Face," is seen as Johnny Tarleton in "Misalliance." Chickabiddy, the wife of John Tarleton, is played by Dorothy Yockel; Hypatia the daughter who longs for freedom is played by Isobel Murdock; Lord Summerhays is played by William Price; Bentley Summerhays is played by David Drinker; Joseph Percival is played by Ford Noyer. The play is under the direction of Jasper Dwyer, director of the Hedgerow Theatre.

"The Devil's Disciple," also by Mr. Shaw, is the third Hedgerow production, scheduled for July 24.

In accordance with a policy of the program committee, Mr. Longstreth in his initial talk, gave the members a sketch of his own life and of the nature of his work. Interesting bits of anecdote on his war service featured the talk.

The Coal Man?

Not a Bit of It!

Guess there's not much doing in your line now?

This is a much-asked question popped at the coal man by friendly conversationalists these summer days.

Strange to say, the answer is, "Dull? I should say not! Summer is a very busy time with us."

Every summer—that is, and this summer we have been kept busier than ever. And here's the reason:

More people each year learn the advisability of filling their bins through the summer with coal for next winter. The old arguments prevail—coal is cleaner, cheaper and can be delivered more easily.

Defeat Wyndmoor in Return Game

Burns Scores Three Runs, Aided by Harris' Sacrifices.

MASTERS HITS HOMER

By John Uberti.

Nick Lyons mounted the peak against Wyndmoor on Saturday and avenged his club's former defeat by the Beaumont Leaguers, winning 4-3. However, it was more of a Burns game, Mickey contributing three of the four runs scored, while Masters scored the other on his homer in the first inning. Burns and Harris, who promoted him each time he got on, played smart baseball, the former in the role of catcher, as he assisted seven times in mowing down rival baserunners, and running down Mastroni, exotic third baseman, who tried to carry over the tying run, while Bob Harris, second man in the lineup, failed to get a hit that he might move Burns closer to the plate by well-placed sacrifices on each occasion.

After Masters clouted his four-pling in the opener with Burns on, Wyndmoor repeated the act in the subsequent session when Unruh scored Shantz from his timely four-master, which Fleck failed to stop. Nevertheless, the Davismen quickly scored the winning point in the third and increased the lead to four in the fifth. Wyndmoor closed the gap by counting once in the sixth.

Again Burns came into the spotlight in the fifth when he doubled and tallied from Walt's two-pling crack, while Martin's poor system of guarding first in the sixth accounted for Wyndmoor's extra point, when Mahoney went over the pentagon as Martin left his base allowing Unruh to get on and Mahoney to score.

REMEMBER THE OL' STRAW RIDE?

THOSE old straw rides . . . remember them? It took a long time to get there and the slow rocky ride wasn't the best antidote for rheumatism. But we always had a good time.

Today . . . well, today we wouldn't put up with it. The snail-like pace of the old two "hoss" wagon, the rough roadbeds and the uncomfortable seats would fail to give us the thrills of 20 years ago. We desire more rapid movement, more comfortable travel and finer appointments, because we are familiar with better standards of travel.

The modern motorbus is the modern way to travel. Picnics, ball games, school and church services, movies or theatres present group transportation problems which are best solved by the motorbus. Your lodge or club will find this modern means of transportation a great convenience.

There is nothing better than a special bus for door-to-door movement of a large group. It keeps your party together and takes you wherever you wish to go at any time. And you will find the rates surprisingly low.

The head of a touring party can relieve himself of all responsibility by placing his problems in the hands of our "Rent-a-bus" department. Call on us at any time for advice and information.

New Books Ready at the Community Library

Among the new books listed at the Library this month is one called "California Copy," by George F. Weeks, now of California, and for many years connected with the San Francisco Chronicle. The book was brought to the Library and given to it by the author's daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Weeks Esslinger, and his granddaughter, Mrs. B. U. Davenport, of South Narberth Avenue.

The book is a virile, entertaining account of Mr. Weeks' journey to join the "One Lung Brigade" of the West during pioneer days, his recovery of his health and his participation in the events that have led to the noteworthy progress of California. Newspapermen especially will be attracted to the book by the title, and the incidents of reporting and editing will furnish an understanding background, while all readers will be fascinated by this account of a man facing his life, or death, with courage, in a territory which to Easterners has an almost mystical quality.

List of books follows: "California Copy," by George F. Weeks; "Romanic Prince," by Rafael Sabatini; "Portrait of a Spy," by E. Temple Thurston; "The Trail Eater," by Barrett Willoughby; "A Humble Lear," by Lorna Doon Beers; "Young Mrs. Greeley," by Booth Tarkington; "The Beloved Prodigal," by James French Dorrance; "Little Caesar," by W. CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday collections will be made from the following streets: Haverford Avenue, Shirley Road, Iona Avenue, Hampden Avenue, Meeting House Lane, Montgomery Avenue, Elmwood Avenue, Woodside Avenue, Chestnut Avenue, Merion Avenue, Rockland Avenue, Maple Avenue, Essex Avenue (south side), Narberth Avenue (south side) and Grove Place.

A recommendation of the Water, Light and Health Committee that a new street light be placed at the head of Shirley Circle was approved.

A temporary permit was granted to the Brynwood Manor Swimming Club to erect a wooden bath house to be taken down at the close of the season. Whether or not this swimming club is a business or social enterprise was the subject of a prolonged discussion. If it is the former it is in violation of the borough's zoning ordinance, and this was the opinion of Burgess Henry A. Frye. Since it has been in operation for three years Council decided to let them continue this year and be guided by whether or not it becomes a nuisance to residents.

Hilldale Wins Again Over Narberth Nine

smiths, was the first man up in the first inning and nicked Durbin's first offering for a home run, and after Ralston contributed the first hit for the locals in the subsequent canto, only to be left on base, Charleston shared scoring honors for the visitors in the fourth when he singled, forcing Cockerel off second, stole second and crossed off Holloway's safety.

Harris and Fleck got on in the following frame when the former accepted a free ticket while the latter took his base when struck by a wild pitch, but were left on when Charleston opened his bag of tricks to fell the next two in order.

Hilldale sent three men over the plate in the sixth when Holloway singled, Dallard walked as did Mackey, filling the bases for the fourth time, Holloway crossing leisurely as Charleston let four balls go by. Johnson singled, sending Mackey and Dallard over the pentagon.

Durbin and Heckle bunched two hits in the sixth to coin the first point for the Narberth Club. Bill doubled to left and Heckle singled, promoting him to third. Durbin counted on Harris' long fly.

Narberth, who was trying stubbornly but vainly to knot the count, made an auspicious start in the eighth when Ralston touched Charleston for his second hit, Harris and Thomas ambling to occupy all bases, and Davis, who ran for Ralston, rallying with run number two as he dashed for the plate of Gilly's timely single.

Narberth Captures First Half Title

.778 in the second game. Berwyn never had the slightest chance in the morning game when, after having scored a lone run in the first frame, Narberth followed with a pair in the home-half of the first and one in the second, but when they sent over ten in the third, the three in the subsequent session and the one in the seventh proved to be merely practice swats in preparing for the afternoon combat. The lineup almost went into its third round in the third inning, another feat never before accomplished. Fleck stroled but Gillilan forced him off second and Martin was struck by a pitched ball. Harris blanked and Humphreys stroled, filling the lanes. Gilly was automatically forced home when Babb took his base when hit by a pitched ball, and Walter Masters made two bases on the leftfielder's blunder, Martin and Humphreys tallying. Heckle singled, scoring Davis, who ran for Babb, and Masters. Burns tripled, scoring Heckle from first. Vernie singled, shipping in the star "back-up" and when Fleck counted off Gillilan's two-ply crash, Redmond succeeded Trost who had proved a flop as rescue-pitcher for Ortlipp. Martin started on him with a home run to the road, pushing Gillilan across. Humphreys singled, but Babb lofted to third. And thus ended a great inning with ten runs, five hits and two errors.

The Narberth-Berwyn feud ensued more buoyantly during the first five innings of the afternoon encounter, but Narberth cut the 3-3 standing in the sixth by scoring in braces of fours in the seventh and eighth. Consecutive doubles from the bats of Masters and Humphreys accounted for the first two runs in the sixth, Gillilan, who had singled, counted off Masters' double, while Walt crossed on Humphrey's two-ply shot. Heckle singled, forwarding the vet and Harris, who had ambled.

With one out in the seventh Martin singled, stole second and moved to third on Masters' single; Humphreys also singled, Masters and Martin counting. Harris hit a home run in this inning, scoring the vet from first. Graham was chucked, while Heckle surrendered on strikes.

Graham's triple in the finale brought on immense applause from the fans as he pushed in Martin and Humphreys who had made base from double-cracks. Heckle singled and Burns shipped in the two with his well-placed one-base single.

Establishing Curb Lines on Wynnewood Avenue

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee as presented to Council at the July meeting of that body Monday night deals with the borough's problems in resurfacing Wynnewood Avenue, particularly in establishing curb lines which have been vague.

The complete report follows: To the President and Members of the Narberth Borough Council.

Your Committee on Highways and Sewers submits the following report for the month of June just closed:

Acting in accordance with authority previously granted and with the approval of the State Highway Department, we have started work on resurfacing Wynnewood Avenue from Montgomery Avenue to Windsor Avenue. When we came to run the lines for the curbs we found that the present club lines on the east side of Wynnewood Avenue are irregular and in most instances are nearer the center of the street than the true curb line should be. We also discovered that on the west side of Wynnewood Avenue, from Windsor to Sabine Avenues, the curb which was formerly in place there and which has been in use for approximately twenty years, was built on the property lines instead of on the curb line.

We decided, therefore, to establish the new curb line on the west side of Wynnewood Avenue from Windsor to Sabine Avenue, where the old curb had been; that is, on the property line. We have decided to let the east curb remain unchanged because the present width of the street is adequate and also because if the east curb were put back to the curb line it would necessitate the removal of many large shade trees and would affect adversely the appearance of that side of the street.

From Sabine Avenue north to Montgomery Avenue we decided to install the west curb on the true curb line, as there had never previously been a curb on that side of that section of the street. The east curb from Sabine to Montgomery Avenues is west of the true line. We decided to let it remain where it is at present for the same reasons that caused us to make the same decision with reference to the east curb in the section from Sa-

Narberth Scores Easy 14 to 1
Win in Twilight Game on Wednesday.

GILLFILAN HITS HOMER

By John Uberti.

Howard Graham mounted the hill again in Wednesday's nightcap to set a new strikeout record as he blanked twelve men of the Indiana Professional Club, gaining a 14-1 victory while his teammates, led by Gillfilan, who touched Sarge for four bingles, including his third circuit blow of the season, collected 16 hits.

The Indiana Professionals, who dropped a double-header to Narberth when Manager Walzer directed plans of battle on July 4, 1928, took a severe lacing from the hard-slugging borough nine, and barely avoided a shutout when they tallied a lone marker in the opening session, aided materially by Young's error.

While Graham checked the visitors, allowing merely five scattered nicks, the Davismen played a merry tune with the lumber, scoring in braces in six innings. After Glatt singled past Gillfilan he moved on to second when Young muffed one, and counted off Kennedy's scorcher to right.

But that was all the scoring the Professionals were destined to get that night. For the following eight innings they sat back and watched the fast-stepping sluggers of the local nine connect with unusual consistency. The Davismen took it easy in scoring two in the local half of the first and a lone marker in the following, but after a zero session were forced to perspire freely in sending over four vital points. Young reached first on the shortstop's blunder and Graham singled, Young barely avoiding a run-down off second when the pitcher relayed to second on pitcher's choice. Graham went on to third when the guard on second missed this assist. Mulligan loaded the bases when he beat out his slow bunt. Young and Graham counted off Thomas' one-base blow, but Thomas was nipped off second trying to stretch the single, and Mulligan scored off Walt's long fly. With the bases empty, Gillfilan came to bat and annexed his third four-master of the season.

The first-half champions tallied thrice in the sixth and eighth innings, after having shipped in a lone point in the preceding frame. Mulligan strolled, Thomas singled and Masters emptied the bases with a long triple. Gillfilan clouted a double to left, scoring Walt.

Harris, Martin and Graham hit in harmony in the eighth, smashing doubles and triples to put the scoring at its final standing, 14-1.

Ardmore Woman Badly Hurt in Auto Crash

Pinned beneath the piled-up wreckage of two automobiles, Mrs. F. W. Schaffner, 84, Ardmore, bore the brunt of a smashup at Spring and Cricket Avenues, Ardmore, last Thursday. She is a patient at Bryn Mawr Hospital with a fractured left wrist and possible internal injuries. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Wilde, of 2729 Belmont Avenue, Ardmore, escaped with a severe shaking up.

The automobile driven by Wilde was in collision with one operated by Garrett Jones, colored, of 146 Simpson Road, Ardmore.

Wilde's car was overturned, and Jones' bounded off the ground, landing on top of Wilde's.

At the bottom of the tangled heap of automobiles and their occupants was Mrs. Schaffner, tossed heavily against the sidewalk by the impact and trapped there until the group was extricated from the wreckage.

Jones was arrested and was held in $500 bail by Magistrate Meredith, of Bryn Mawr, for further hearing August 4 on a charge of assault and battery by automobile.

24 Scouts Off For International Jamboree Today From Ardmore After Banquet in Honor

Headed by Scoutmasters A. Cleveland Conner and Walter R. Fairies, twenty-four Boy Scouts from Ardmore and Bala-Cynwyd will entrain from Ardmore station today at 12:12 for New York, where they will board the S.S. Minnesota, which will sail tomorrow morning for London.

The twenty-three scouts from this territory, and Jay Quinn, of Lancaster, were feted at a dinner in their honor last night at the French Grotto, given by G. B. French, of 120 St. Georges Road, Ardmore. Mr. French's son, Bruce, is a member of the group leaving to visit the Third International Jamboree to be held at Birkenhead, England, from July 30 until August 13.

Benjamin H. Ludlow, prominent attorney, and John W. Weaver, commander of the American Legion posts in Lancaster, also addressed the group at the dinner last night. The Legion posts of Lancaster are paying Jay Quinn's expenses. The scout will carry a letter from the Mayor of Lancaster to the Mayor of Lancaster, England.

When the party arrives at Broad Street Station they will be addressed by Major John Lewis Evans, of Haverford, president of the Montgomery and Delaware County Boy Scouts, who will officially open the pilgrimage to England. A special car will carry the group to New York, where they will visit places of interest in that city, including the national Boy Scout store, one of the largest of its kind in the world.

After the sightseeing trip throughout the city, the boys will embark on the S.S. Minnesota at 9 P. M. Friday and will sail at 1 A. M. Saturday. The party will be the only scouts on this ship, although the S.S. Lapland sails at the same time with over 300 scouts from California. When the scouts arrive in England they will go to York, where they will camp. From York, they will proceed to Edinburgh, where the party will view the statue, sculptured by R. Tait McKenzie, which represents a young soldier responding to the call to arms. This statue was posed for by J. Folwell Scull, and was a gift from the Scottish people in America.

Leaving on July 29 the delegation will visit Glasgow, then to Windermer, in the lake region, on the 30th, where the cantonment is located.

As the Main Line delegation has recently returned from a week at Camp Delmont, the boys are in the best of condition due to long hikes every day with the packs that they will carry in England on the trip.

The delegation will include: Ardmore—A. Cleveland Conner, scoutmaster; Denton Barkman, of Merion Golf Manor; Thomas Cahill, 36 Grandview Road; Arthur B. Connor, 217 Linwood Avenue; Donald Estey, 207 Llanfair Road; Bruce French, 120 St. Georges Road; James McIntyre, 105 Glenn Road; Rolf Owen, Sutton Road; James Sutton, 5409 Overbrook Avenue, Philadelphia; William Gordon, Chambersburg, Pa.; William McCaw, Drexel Hill; Jay Quinn, Lancaster, Pa.; and J. Wannerstein, Shenandoah, Pa.

Bala-Cynwyd—Walter R. Fairies, scoutmaster; George Hill, 3d, 116 Birch Avenue; Richard McCurdy, 106 Bryn Mawr Avenue; Thomas Bowes, Jr., 333 Trevor Lane; Stephen Gimber, 161 Upland Terrace; Charles Leuders, Jr., 2 Lodges Lane; John Tipton, 317 Kent Road; H. P. Harkins, 28 Bala Avenue; William Macan, 3d, 400 Pembroke Road; Theodore Loder, Jr., 421 State Road; Walter Fricke, 417 Tregar Road; David McVicker, 120 Bentley Avenue, and William Small, of Hatboro, Pa.

The local scouts will carry letters of introduction to Sir Ramsey MacDonald, Prime Minister, and to J. H. Thomas. Sightseeing tours will include the British Museum, Houses of Parliament, Tower of London, Oxford University, Stratford-on-Avon, Westminster Abbey and Yorkminster.

The Jamboree at Birkenhead is located right near the border line into Wales. Bala, in Wales, and St. Asaph's, in Wales, from where the founders of Bala and Cynwyd came, are only ten or twelve miles from where the scouts will be camping. They plan to pay a visit to St. Asaph's and Bala, as Bala No. 1 meets in St. Asaph's Church in Bala-Cynwyd. The old city of Chester is very near to the cantonment and excursions have been arranged to that place.

On August 13 the delegation will sail from London to the Hague, where they will spend some time visiting the sights. From the Hague they will go to Brussels, and then to Paris. The trip is closed with a few days' visit in Paris, leaving there on the 20th, and sailing the same day on the S.S. Lapland for New York.

Narberth Resident Tells of Trip to the Coast

"Leaving Clovis, our stops were at Albuquerque, N. M.; Winslow, Arizona; Kingman, Arizona, and Los Angeles at the Grand Central Airport in Glendale, a suburb of Los Angeles.

"On this portion of the trip we passed over desert country almost all the way, or, in fact, until we crossed the San Bernardino Mountains through the Cajon Pass.

"We saw mountain range after mountain range, passing over them at any height from 3000 feet to 11,300 feet over the highest ones. Nothing bothered us! The higher they came the better we all seemed to like it, for while the thermometer at Kingman registered 107 in the shade of the station awning, we had a delightful breeze about two miles up! It was between here and Los Angeles that we soared the highest.

"After crossing the mountain range we could see the orange groves in the valley under us. I noticed the names 'Pomona', 'Monrovia' and 'Arcadia' as we came lower to the ground. There were miles and miles of these groves.

"During my stay in Los Angeles I had the pleasure of an automobile trip through this valley where they are at present harvesting the 'Valencia' orange. Here are also grown large quantities of English walnuts, olives, Avocado pear, lemons and all kinds of vegetables, all by means of an elaborate irrigation system so essential in this section of the United States.

"For speed, security and comfort this new form of traveling is all that could be expected. The cabin of the plane is 'roomy', permitting of walking about, if desired. Luncheon is served in the air by the courier. Breakfasts and dinners are had on the ground. For the business man, it is possible to conduct his office affairs en route. Tables are provided at each seat. Mail and telegraph facilities are available at each stop.

"As far as I was able to observe, nothing has been left undone to make this a real step forward in modern transportation practices. The Transcontinental Air Transport, the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Santa Fe Railroad, as I see it, have shown industrial America what it needs, and have already met that need."

Deaves, 319 Conway Avenue, garage; M. E. Church, Price and Essex Avenues, garage; Lawrence K. Connell, 402 Dudley Avenue, roof; Joseph B. Lentz, 8 Wynnewood Court, garage; E. A.
